Three fantastic Silverlit Flying Toys to be won!

Flying Toys top three products for Christmas 2009 include the fully functional Heli Mission Swat Truck featuring twin LED headlights, four flashing blue hazard warning lights, dual siren sound effects, and remotely operated roof doors. An automatic rising launch platform allows the three channel Picoo Z chopper to actually take off from the truck, and be safely stored inside between top secret missions.

Silverlit's sensational Skybot Attack Set offers a pair of fabulous flying robots, with twin rotors on their shoulders for vertical take off upon command, combined with a third rear rotor to turn them left or right.

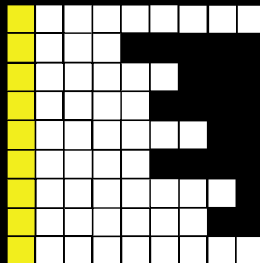

The innovative Skybots will chase each other around a room, whilst using their infra red lasers to temporarily disable their opponent, accompanied by audible sound effects for added excitement.

Significantly bigger than Flying Toys best selling indoor infra red micro Picoo Z, Silverlit's brand new Picoo Z XL Vortex is literally twice the overall length, incorporates a sophisticated Piezo gyro system and three channel proportional radio control, to make this latest larger version easy and fun to fly outdoors too!
